

Name of Panel: Engaging with Truth, Racial Healing, and Transformation

Date | Time | Location: June 16, 2022 | 4:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. ET | ACS National Convention, Washington D.C. Marriot Marquis Hotel

Brief Description:

Racial inequality is rooted in the legal infrastructure of this country, from the drafting of our founding documents to the very design of our government. If we are to dismantle white supremacy, we need a concerted reckoning with our country's history and a framework for driving coordinated and transformative change to that end, ACS has joined the growing movement calling for a national truth, racial healing, and transformation commission. How can ACS members get involved in the movement toward truth, racial healing, and transformation? What work is being done at the local level and what lessons can be drawn from past efforts?

Agenda of Panel: 4:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. (1.5 hours of CLE)

- Introduction (5 min)
- Speakers' Presentations (30 min)
- Small Group Discussion (50 min)
- Conclusion (5 min)

Date | Time | Location: June 17, 2022 | 9:15 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. ET | ACS National Convention, Washington D.C. Marriot Marquis Hotel

Brief Description:

A report from Freedom House finds that authoritarianism is expanding globally, and the U.S. has not been immune from these worrying signs of democratic retreat. Over a year after an angry mob of white supremacists stormed the U.S. Capitol in an attempt to overturn the 2020 presidential election, the percentage of Americans who believe the election was stolen has grown despite no evidence to support this contention. As we approach our first post-insurrection election and with the 2024 presidential race poised to begin, what can we do to protect election integrity and stem the tide of anti-democratic measures designed to allow state legislators to “legally” override the choice of voters? Can court reform help refortify our democratic institutions? Are there lessons we can learn from other countries around the globe who have faced similar authoritarian threats?

Agenda of Panel: 9:15 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. (1.5 hours of CLE)

Name of Panel: “Taking” Away Our Rights: The Implications of Cedar Point Nursery

Date | Time | Location: June 17, 2022 | 11:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. | Marriott Marquis, 901 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20001

Brief Description:

In a blow to workers’ rights, the U.S. Supreme Court’s decision in Cedar Point Nursery v. Hassid striking down a 45 year-old farm labor regulation elevated employers’ property rights above their employees’ ability to meet with labor organizers. Critics of the decision have decried it as a radical reinterpretation and expansion of the Fifth Amendment’s Takings Clause that ignores decades of precedent. These experts argue that the decision’s reckless application of the Takings Clause not only weakens collective bargaining rights, but could also compromise health and safety, anti-discrimination, fair housing, and environmental laws. What are the long-term implications of Cedar Point on workers’ rights and the broader regulatory state?

Name of Panel: Engaging Globally: Shaping ACS's Involvement in International Legal and Justice Issues

Date | Time | Location: June 17, 2022 | 11:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. | Marriott Marquis, 901 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20001

Brief Description:

The events of the past few years have made clear that ACS's work must acknowledge the twenty-first century reality that the legal and justice issues we confront at home are inextricably interconnected with those facing the larger global community. Just as the U.S. must engage its global partners if there is any hope for progress, so too, must ACS engage with those issues central to our mission that transcend our borders. This includes such far ranging issues as race and the legacy of colonialism, the rule of law, human rights, and the opportunities and dangers technology poses. How, then, can ACS adapt its work to engage globally in an intentional and effective way?

Name of Panel: Bringing a Poster to a Gun Fight: The Fatal Combination of Expanded "Gun Rights" and Self-Defense Laws on Political Participation

Date | Time | Location: June 17, 2022 | 11:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. | Marriott Marquis, 901 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20001

Brief Description:

Last November, the U.S. Supreme Court heard arguments in a case that could significantly restrict states' authority to impose limits on the public carry of firearms. That same month, a jury acquitted Kyle Rittenhouse, who killed two people and injured a third with the AR-15 style assault weapon he brought to a Black Lives Matter protest, based on claims of self-defense. In a country of increasingly permissive self-defense laws, how will the potential ubiquity of guns in public affect public safety and public speech? Given that both "gun rights" and self-defense laws have historically benefited white people and actively harmed Black and Brown people, what do these trends portend?

Name of Panel: Crossing Borders: How Xenophobia Infects our Immigration System and our Approach to Refugee Crises

Date | Time | Location: June 17, 2022 | 3:00 pm to 4:00 pm | Marriott Marquis, 901 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20001

Brief Description:

We are in the midst of a global humanitarian crisis as millions of people flee war, poverty, and persecution in places as disparate as Afghanistan, Haiti, Central America, Syria, and Ukraine. The international and domestic responses to these refugee crises have too often differed based on the race, ethnicity, religion, or country of origin of those affected. In the U.S., the federal government's decision to use the Covid-19 pandemic as justification to invoke long-dormant immigration authority to expel asylum seekers, despite objections from public health experts, has been decried as racist by many human rights observers. Is the U.S. immigration system doing enough to respond to an unprecedented humanitarian need? And what role is race, and racism, playing in the application of immigration law in the United States and abroad?

Name of Panel: Technology and Democracy: Friends or Foes?

Date | Time | Location: June 17, 2022 | 3:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. | Marriott Marquis, 901 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20001

Brief Description:

Rapidly advancing information and communication technologies have had a profound impact on democracy around the world. In the early days of the Arab Spring, technology enabled activists to coordinate and demand reform. But today, with disinformation and growing pressure being exerted on technology companies to clamp down on dissent in authoritarian countries like Russia and China, the relationship between technology and democracy is seen in a much more nuanced light. How can we ensure that regulations or reforms are democracy-enhancing rather than democracy-weakening?

Name of Panel: Weaponizing “Parental Rights” in the Latest Culture Wars

Date | Time | Location: June 17, 2022 | 3:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. ET | ACS National Convention, Washington D.C. Marriot Marquis Hotel

Brief Description:

Though an enormous amount of work remains to be done, there has been notable progress in conversations around racial justice and LGBTQ+ rights in recent years. This progress, however, has been met with backlash, as conservative state lawmakers rush to pass laws that prohibit teachers from including discussions of race or sexuality in their curriculum and restrict students’ ability to discuss their lived experiences. These laws have been described by their sponsors as preserving “parental rights.” Yet, many of these same states have pursued legislation prohibiting parents from providing the medical care their trans children need. How can this disconnect be explained and what role are conservative dominated courts playing in these attacks against the young people who make up America’s most diverse generation?

Panelists’ Names and Bios:

Name of Panel: Evaporating Abortion Rights – Expanding Reproductive Freedom

Date | Time | Location: June 17, 2022 | 4:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. ET | ACS National Convention, Washington D.C. Marriot Marquis Hotel

Brief Description:

The Supreme Court has been eroding meaningful abortion access for years, upholding Targeted Restrictions on Abortion Providers (TRAP) laws and other abortion restrictions that disproportionately impact marginalized pregnant people. Now the Court is poised to explicitly or de facto overturn Roe v. Wade and nearly 50 years of precedent recognizing the constitutional right to abortion. If this happens, according to the Guttmacher Institute, “26 states are certain or likely to ban abortion.” In a post-Roe America, how do we expand reproductive freedom in a way that creates meaningful rights and access for marginalized people in all 50 states? What can the experience of legalizing abortion in other countries tell us about potential next steps in the United States?

Agenda of Panel: 4:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. (1.5 hours of CLE)
